You can purchase an Individual Turnover Report on all equity and fixed interest securities as well as London listed and AIM securities. The reports illustrate the number of shares traded in a particular stock and their total value over a chosen time period.

Trade Type Key:

A Automatic Trade a Average Price B Broker to Broker c Correction

C Currency Conversion	E Result of Exercising Option	F NonRisk Trade	G Bargain Conditions Apply
K Block Trade	L Late Reported Trade	M Market Maker to Market Maker	N Nonprotected Portfolio

T Single Protected Trade	t Contra Trade	U Uncrossing Trade	W Worked Principal Trade
X Cross

Notes:

Why is a dash ("-") sometimes displayed for the price, change, percentage change, high and low?

For SETS securities the price is the last Automatic Trade (Type A) price or the last Uncrossing Trade (Type U) price as a result of a SETS auction. If there has been no automatic trade or uncrossing trade as a result of an auction this field will be populated with a dash. In this instance, for an indicative representation of the price of this security please refer to the last 5 trade prices, the bid and offer prices and the last closing price. In a similar fashion, if there has been no automatic trade or auction uncrossing trade the change, percentage change, high and low will also be populated with a dash.

Why is a dash ("-") sometimes displayed for the cumulative volume of some securities?

A dash is used to identify the cumulative volume for most illiquid securities, and means that there has been no reported trades for that particular security (i.e. a cumulative trading volume of zero).

Notes on International Securities:

International securities (identified as securities residing in the OINT, EULQ, LSTD, NLLD, IOB and INTR market segments) can open and close at different times to the other securities available on the delayed prices service. In addition, national holidays also vary in different countries so some data may not be available. Please consult the special conditions field to see the status of the security (e.g. "Security closed"). When an international security is closed the closing bid and offer will be displayed but the price, change and high/low fields will be populated with dashes. Please also note that some data is not available for international securities as trade reports are not required for some international stocks.

Please note that a country code of ZZ denotes that this instrument is a bearer stock with no specific country of origin.

All share prices are delayed by at least 15 minutes.

STANDARD CHARTERED PLANS TO INCORPORATE ITS HONG KONG BUSINESS

Standard Chartered PLC (the Group) today announces its intention to seek all necessary approvals to incorporate its business in Hong Kong under a wholly-owned subsidiary company.

The incorporation plan underpins the Group's strategy for Greater China. It gives the Group an opportunity to further capitalise on the business opportunities created as a result of the closer economic integration between Hong Kong and mainland China.

The Bank has operated in Hong Kong since 1859 and has been issuing Hong Kong banknotes since 1862. Standard Chartered PLC listed on the Stock Exchange of Hong Kong in 2002.
